

Curriculum Analysis for School Boards

Curriculum oversight is among a school board’s top priorities. But gaining a clear and complete picture of what that curriculum includes is hard to come by. We want to change that.

School Boards for Academic Excellence and curriculum specialist Jordan Adams are working together to make it easy for school boards to provide curricular transparency and accountability for their districts. Here’s how.

Basic Curriculum Review

- For individual school board members who do not have a reform-focused majority.
- Review lists of instructional materials, books, and resources.
- Produces a short 3–4-page roadmap highlighting areas of potential concern worthy of further examination by board members and the community.
- FREE for board members affiliated with a SBAE State Partner Organization.

Full Curriculum Audit

- For school boards that vote to hire Jordan Adams to conduct an official curriculum audit.
- Page-by-page review and analysis of curriculum, instructional materials, and curriculum management drives for board-selected subjects and grade levels.
- Delivers a comprehensive report on strengths, areas of concern, and opportunities for improvement in the district’s curriculum.
- DISCOUNT for boards with at least one member of a SBAE State Partner Organization.

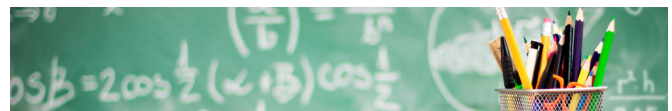

TO LEARN MORE, CONTACT

Jon Russell

SBAE’s Director of Network Engagement

✉ jon@sbaenetwork.org

🌐 sbaenetwork.org

ABOUT US

School Boards for Academic Excellence is dedicated to restoring academic excellence in America’s schools by harnessing the transformative power of America’s school boards. SBAE exists to help school board members dramatically improve academic achievement in the schools they govern, doing so through a network of state-based partner organizations squarely focused on serving school boards leading education reform.

Jordan Adams is an independent education consultant for states and school boards, providing public education services informed by his classical education background. Jordan previously worked as a certified teacher and for the K-12 Education Office at Hillsdale College. His work includes curriculum vetting and development, teacher training, state standards revisions, and public testimony for a variety of entities, including the Florida Department of Education, the South Dakota Department of Education, the Michigan Senate, and the White House Conference on American History hosted by the Trump Administration.